About CDygart Solutions, LLC

CDygart Solutions, LLC is led by Claire T. Dygart, a librarian with over twenty years of experience in acquiring online content for libraries. We have worked with libraries on a statewide basis to secure the best prices and content available, and provide a variety of services to libraries seeking to establish relationships with vendors that are mutually beneficial, and to lower the cost of library content through effective negotiation techniques.

CDygart Solutions will be sending a survey to all MEEC members in late May to identify service needs among MEEC member libraries.

Spotlight: E-Journal Package Offerings

CDygart Solutions has partnered with the publishers Cambridge University Press, Oxford University Press, SAGE, and Wiley, and is exploring opportunities with Springer Nature and Taylor & Francis, to make e-journal packages available to our academic base. Final pricing terms will be available for review and consideration shortly after the American Library Association (ALA) meeting in June.

In addition to the offerings for the university and college market,

CDygart Solutions is working with these publishers to craft special deals for the community college market.
